

SAUL LELCHUK

Education

Dartmouth College, M.A.

9/2006 – 5/2008

- M.A. in liberal studies | concentration in creative writing

Amherst College, B.A. cum laude

9/2001 – 5/2005

- B.A. in English | concentration in film studies

Books

- One Got Away | Flatiron Books, Macmillan | March 2021
 - Shortlisted; 2021 CA Golden Poppy Award, Mystery, Suspense, & Thriller
- Save Me From Dangerous Men | Flatiron Books, Macmillan | March 2019
 - USA Today Best Books of 2019
 - Booklist Top 10 Crime Debut
 - Kirkus Best Mystery / Thriller 2019
 - Hudson Booksellers Best of the Year
 - Shortlisted; 2020 Barry Award Best First Mystery / Crime Novel

Academic Teaching

Dartmouth College

2016 - Present

Visiting Lecturer, Creative Writing, MALS

- Courses Taught
 - MALS 140: Writing the Short Story
 - MALS 141: Writing Crime Fiction
- Work with multiple students on Independent Studies and Theses annually

Awards & Service

- Edgars Judge, Best Novel, Mystery Writers of America (MWA) 2022
 - Invited to serve as a panel judge awarding American crime fiction's most preeminent prize, the Edgar for Best Novel 2022.
 - Responsibilities included reading approximately 550 books submitted.
- Byam Shaw-Brownstone MALS Thesis Excellence Award in Creative Writing,

Dartmouth College MALS, 5/2008

- PEN Prison Writing Mentor

2011 – Present